Maximize your marketing dollars with a pay-as-you-go payment plan!

The benefit of a long-term retainer is that it allows Incitrio to create the best mix of services for your brand.

Our unique approach ensures the most effective use of your marketing budget by bringing together strategic thinking and the highest quality creative work. And, you only pay for the hours you use.

Add and eliminate tactics from any price point to ensure that your plan is customized to meet your exact needs. After budget has been determined and agreed upon, Incitrio will meet with you to make recommendations for what can be accomplished to produce the greatest results within the least amount of hours and obtain client approval before executing the plan. Monthly marketing retainer includes a custom-designed mix of any of the services that Incitrio offers.

Incitrio employs a "rollover" policy for our client retainer work. At the end of each month, for the hours that remain unused, Incitrio will rollover the hours to the next month. This way unused hours do not expire. At the end of the retainer contract, clients may continue the retainer on a month-to-month basis or use up remaining hours. All retainer hours expire 30 days after contract termination.
